

Petr Badmaev--krestnik imperatora, tselitel, diplomat (Seriia Dose) (Russian Edition)

Zhamsaran (Petr Aleksandrovich) Badmaev was the only doctor in Russia in the 19th century who studied and practiced Tibetan medicine. He first treated Tsar Alexander III, then Nicolas II. He died in a Russian prison in 1920. This book consists of four parts. The first one is memoirs about the doctor written by Boris Gusev, Badmaevs grandson. The second part was written by Badmaevs daughter. The third part, is again written by Gusev about his own childhood and his grandfather. Part four contains P. Badmaevs letters to Aleksander III and Nicolas II, and his translations from the book Zhud-Shi that contain some secrets of Tibetan medicine.
